EXCLUSIVE LEARNING OPPORTUNITY

Feel a little overwhelmed by having all the responsibility of running a hospital and making life and death decisions that can save or ruin a life? You know you have a pretty good memory and know all the important stuff, but HOW do you implement it in the clinical setting?

This is the workshop for you.

Specifically designed for vets who are new, need an update or are returning to practice after hiatus – this workshop will get you fit for the job. We spoke to lots of people, and this is the nuts and bolts of practicing that will get you through the day smiling.

Along with surgical skills we will have communication and meditation topics to balance out each day. We'll work you hard and give you the support to get you to where you need to be to do the job confidently and competently.

PRESENTERS

DR TANIA BANKS

*BVSc, FACVSc
(Small Animal Surgery)*

Tania graduated from The University of Queensland in 1997, and then spent 18 months in small animal practice in Brisbane. An internship in small animal medicine at The University of Queensland was then followed by a residency in small animal surgery at The University of Queensland and at Veterinary Specialist Services. Tania then spent three years in England at Veterinary Referrals in Cancer and Critical Care and has co-authored a textbook titled “Small Animal Oncology: An Introduction”. Tania was awarded a Fellowship in small animal surgery in 2005. Tania is a PhD candidate and lecturer at The University of Queensland, and performs all aspects of small animal surgery with a particular emphasis on soft tissue surgery.

DR ELLIE LEISTER

BVSc MANZCVS (Small Animal Medicine)

Ellie is the Pet Intensive Care Unit Veterinary Manager at Veterinary Specialist Services in Brisbane. In 2004, Dr. Leister spent 4 years in mixed practice in country NSW before sitting memberships and moving to England where she turned into a small animal vet and her passion for emergency and critical care started. Ellie has worked exclusively as a critical care veterinarian in the Pet Intensive Care Unit at VSS in Brisbane ever since. She manages a team of 16 people and the ICU operates 24/7. The PICU is known nationally as one of the most well run and busiest critical care centers in the country. It manages very complex cardiology, oncology, medical and surgical cases as well as every day emergencies. Ellie shares her home with 4 cats, her dog and the Englishman she came back with. On days off she revels in domesticated bliss, studying or hiking.

DR CHRISTINE HAWKE

BSc BVSc PhD MACVSc

Christine graduated as a veterinarian from the University of Sydney in 1993. She worked in small animal general practice in Australia and the UK for five years before returning to Sydney in 1999 to commence her PhD studies in immunology at the University of Sydney. After successfully completing these in 2003 and a break to start her family, she returned to the University of Sydney as a Lecturer in the Faculty of Veterinary Science in 2005. Christine became a member of the ACVSc in 2006 and is director of Sydney Pet Dentistry, which takes referrals from across NSW. Christine is an active AVA member and past-president of the AVDS. Christine teaches Undergraduate dentistry at the University of Sydney and she also accepts referral through the Animal Referral Hospital.
